In January 2009 Van Walt Ltd, the Surrey based specialist supplier of soil and groundwater monitoring equipment to the environmental, educational and agricultural research communities was appointed the exclusive distributor of YSI Environmental Monitoring and Water Quality Meters and Systems in the UK and Ireland to groundwater customers.

YSI, a US company who manufacture and distribute instruments, software, and data collection platforms for environmental monitoring and testing, is renowned for their excellent and extensive range of market-leading, rugged water quality meters and environmental monitoring systems. "Whether our customers require a single, dual or multiparameter water quality meter Van Walt is pleased to now be able to offer the YSI range of meters, systems and accessories," says Vincent Van Walt, managing director, Van Walt Ltd. "YSI equipment is proven to give reliable, quality data with the minimum of downtime and with low maintenance costs."

The Van Walt team have undergone rigorous training with YSI to familiarise themselves with the range of YSI products and, as importantly, their care, maintenance and upkeep. "It's vital we know these products inside out," says Tom Stone, Van Walt's rental manager. "Not only is the YSI 556 Multi-Probe Field Meter one of our most popular rental items but when customers come to us for product information before purchase we need to know the technical applications of each product to ensure customers buy the right equipment for their needs and that we provide knowledgeable service support so they immediately maximise the effectiveness of their purchase."

For over 25 years Van Walt has built its reputation by providing high quality products, excellent customer support and full product training, where and when required, to ensure customers get value for money on the products they need to develop solutions for the growing burdens on our planet's natural resources.
